

itelligence academy 2004

New program includes SAP technologies and training tools

Frankfurt, January 15, 2004 - Bielefeld-based itelligence academy's program for the first half of 2004 includes some 150 seminars on SAP-related topics such as Netweaver, the latest generation of SAP technology, train-the-trainer courses as well as workshops on the fast and efficient preparation of own training papers and documentations.

SAP Netweaver is a suite of SAP solutions for the creation of integrated corporate software applications. The following courses provide participants with an overview of the new SAP technology:

STEP-BD190: SAP Web Applications Server

STEP-BD200: WAS – Webanwendungen entwickeln ("Developing web applications")

STEP-BD210: SAP eXchange Infrastructure

Train the trainer seminar

The one-day train-the-trainer seminar is designed to prepare trainers for training situations and includes trainer input, participant presentations with video analysis, group work as well as exercises. The participants learn how to prepare and organize a seminar, how to design and use visualization tools and media, how to optimize their own trainer behaviour and how to deal with conflicts and take a look at feedback rules and individual trainer behaviour.

SAP Tutor

The half-day SAP Tutor workshop shows the participants how to use this SAP tool. SAP Tutor helps users to translate specific corporate know-how into electronic learning units (tutorials) quickly, easily and cost-efficiently. These tutorials can be updated as desired and be adjusted to different learning styles. Seminar unit: STEP-TT10: Einstieg in den SAP Tutor ("Introduction to SAP Tutor")
