

Econ Award 2009 – itelligence

Three entries about itelligence AG in Econ's "Jahrbuch der Unternehmenskommunikation 2009"

Bielefeld (Germany), July 7, 2009 – This year, itelligence AG is competing once again for the coveted winning positions of the Econ Awards 2009. The first steps towards the winner's podium have already been successfully taken with three entries in the "Jahrbuch der Unternehmenskommunikation 2009" ("Annual of Corporate Communication 2009") in the categories: Annual Reports, Corporate Books and Corporate Video/Interactive Media.

In particular, itelligence is presenting its completely relaunched itelligence AG Annual Report 2008. It displays a modern layout, combined with an unusual punching and cutting technique. With the smart brochure, "Traumziel SAP", itelligence is competing in the category of Corporate Books, and explains the SAP world in an easy-to-understand travel guide and attractive pictures. The corporate video of the Bielefeld company, which now has been accepted into the annual as well, underscores the competent, international presence of the mid-market SAP consulting house with its styled ambience.

This year, the "Jahrbuch der Unternehmenskommunikation 2009" is appearing for the third time and already represents a small intermediate victory for all competitors for the "Econ Award 2009". Now that the entries for this annual have been selected by a jury, they represent a nomination for the Econ Awards as well. The prize will be announced and awarded in Berlin on November 19.
