SAP qualifies it.wood, itelligence's mySAP All-in-One industry solutionAbout it.wood it.wood helps the wood and furniture industry face one of its biggest challenges: the large number of variations. it.wood add-ons therefore include a customized order entry module for the entry of cross-product data, modules permitting rough capacity checks and variation-oriented order scheduling as well as modules displaying the production and order status. it.wood permits fast commercial order entries and provides a link to a graphical order entry system. Graphics software may, for example, be used to directly compare drawings of the room with the planned piece of furniture entered via the order entry screen. Any modifications made using the graphics program will be taken into account in the order entry module. An interface enables the online and offline exchange of data between the order entry module and graphics programs, making the redundant entry of master data superfluous. In addition, it.wood permits the generation of packaging bags, connects to cutting systems and supports the assembly and packaging based on the shipping date.
