

E-Procure 2003 to be held in Nuremberg, May 5-7, 2003

itelligence AG Demonstrates Practical Application of mySAP Supplier Relationship Management

Frankfurt, April 14, 2003 – At E-Procure 2003 to be held in Nuremberg, May 5-7, 2003 (Hall 12.0, Booth 301), itelligence AG will showcase new developments of the SAP solution, mySAP Supplier Relationship Management (SRM). itelligence, a full-service SAP provider, will present its experience with a mySAP SRM project at Nordzucker AG, one of Europe's biggest sugar producers at its inaugural participation in this international trade fair.

The presentation of the mySAP SRM solution focuses on the efficiency and transparency of the entire supply chain. Trade attendees will gain insight into the functionality of the multi-supplier catalogue and the content management features of the SRM system. As a leading international SAP provider, itelligence AG has comprehensive e-procurement know-how and high technical expertise in the introduction of mySAP SRM. "IT, procurement and logistics decision-makers expect proven solutions that provide visible benefits," Tim Kollmeier, senior consultant for mySAP SRM at itelligence, summarizes the expectations of itelligence's customers.

On Tuesday, May 6, Tim Kollmeier and Jürgen Ehlers of Nordzucker AG's procurement department will present "mySAP SRM - efficient procurement of stock materials and consumables and project experience gained at Nordzucker AG" at the E-Procure exhibitor forum. On Wednesday, May 7, Tim Kollmeier will participate as a co-lecturer in a workshop entitled "From supplier management to cost reduction in procurement - managing the procurement process with electronic catalogues." This workshop is part of the exhibition conference organized by Messe-Kongress, Bundesverband der Materialwirtschaft Einkauf und Logistik e.V.
